CORPORATE PHILOSOPHY

Marble is fascinating the human kind since the rise of every civilization. Marble's beauty is universal and we can't renounce to it, but at the same time it is extremely fragile. So many wonderful marbles don't exist anymore. Our mission is to create an alternative option, which doesn't require the destruction of that beauty we admire so much, without renouncing to it. We dream about a future where natural marbles will no longer be used in extensive applications, and at the same time more people will be allowed to responsibly enjoy the beauty of marble.

So, GANI comes from its founder passion for marble and marbles' pure and elegant beauty. The desire for knowledge about marble leads to discovery of an unbelievably varied nature in every corner of our world. Challenging this kind of search, turned GANI into a marble collector, and collecting the priceless and fragile beauty of marble all around the world.

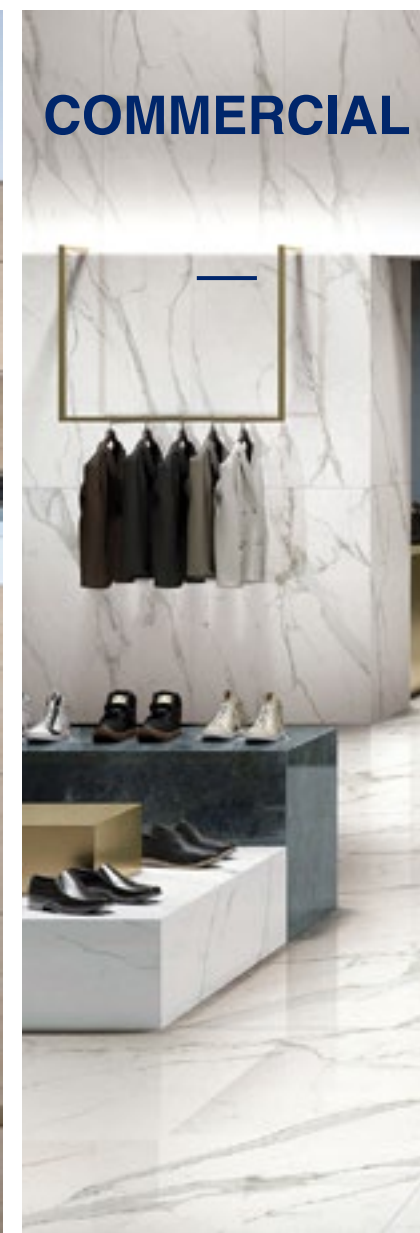

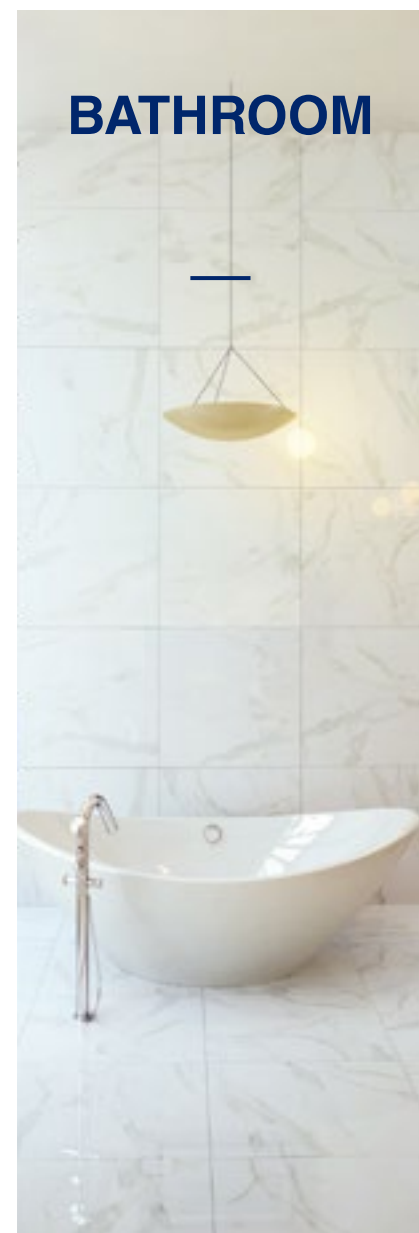

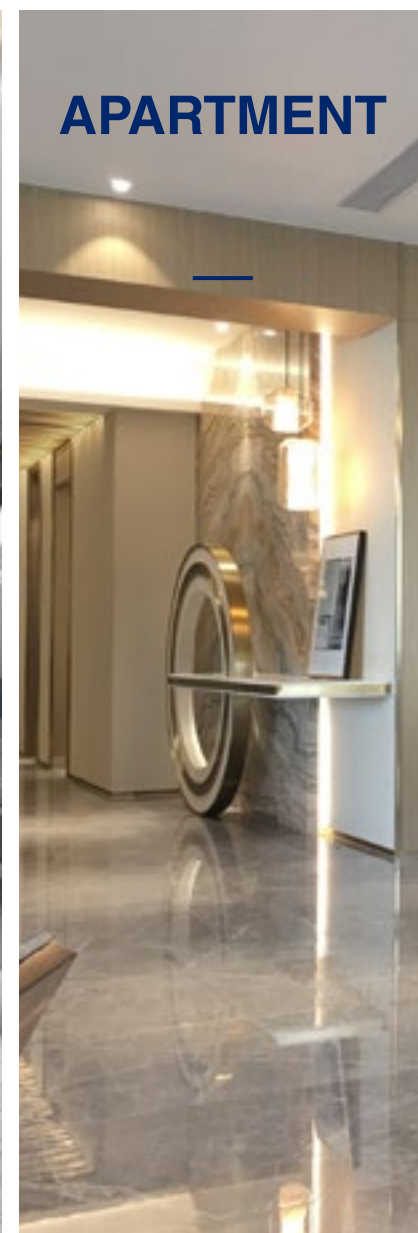

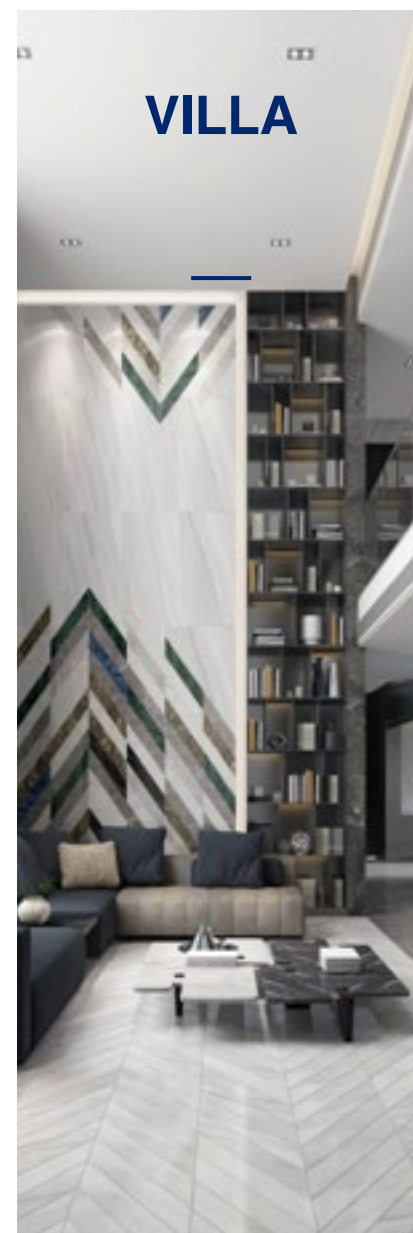

MARBLE TILES

MARBLE TILES, CAPTURING THE NATURAL BEAUTY OF MARBLE WITH HIGH PERFORMANCES OF PORCELAIN TILES, IS A TECHNOLOGICAL EVOLUTION OF MARBLES.

GANI MARBLE TILES STEMS FROM INNOVATION IN CROSS-BOUNDARY CONVERGENCE, SATISFYING PEOPLE'S DEMAND FOR NATURAL BEAUTY THROUGH STATE-OF-THE-ART TECHNOLOGY.

Precious stones

"I will speak about the Eye of the Tiger and the Eye of the Falcon at the same time, as they are basically the same stone with the only exception of the color. The Eye of the Tiger and Eye of the Falcon are considered semi-precious stones, used mostly in jewelry applications, they also have very interesting applications in interior design when layered and joined together to form slabs. The most interesting thing about this 2 stones is indeed, their structure and variety of colors, but even more attractive is the everchanging reflection effects along their surface.

How to use those 2 stones: The Eye of the Tiger and the Eye of the Falcon indeed should be used for very special areas of the design. Most of the times they will be used in elements with medium-small dimension, like bar counter, table tops, sometimes also on bigger elements like featuring walls, seldom used for floor applications.

These will be the commonest situations but they are not the only ones. Thanks to the small size of the pieces which make the Eye of the Tiger and the Eye of the Falcon, we can consider this stones as a single-color stones, enabling us to use them as supporting materials (which means we can use them on elements which function is not directly to stand out, but to support another and more important element to stand out), in this case clearly the area in which we will use 1 of those 2 stones need to be small, much smaller than the element we want to support (which will use a different material not as eyecatching as Eye of the Tiger or Eye of the Falcon). Having the chance to be perceived as a single-color stone we can also use it on all-around applications, like complete floors, or big walls, clearly the color is very strong and eye-catching, this kind of application will be suitable only for some special projects which aim to be very impressive."

Onyxes

The 2 new Onyxes together with the White Onyx we developed last year forms a series of stones which enrich the decorating possibilities of villas and other projects.

The 2 Onyxes anyway are very different and thus so the way we will use them will be very different as well.

All of the 3 Onyxes we developed comes from blocks cutted longitudinally to the main veining direction, in order to look for the purest color possible and the characteristic curved and cloudy vein pattern of some onyxes.

The Grey Onyx has a very homogeneous color and very soft and cloudy veins, which makes it perfect for many big areas. Even if it can be easily used on many kind of designs, due to the softness of its color and veins, the Onyx texture is also able to give a very high-end feeling, which can create a good effect in 2 times: soft and not too eye-catching at first sight, and deep and intense at a closer and more careful look.

The Orange Onyx instead has a very interesting color, a deep and bright orange color which will be definitely the reason to use it. The orange color changes smoothly through the different layers of this onyx, offering a very wide range of orange colors to match with.

The circular veins in different directions of the pattern creates a very dynamic and realistic effect.

Mostly this onyx will be used on the main element of the designs, those ones which we want to attract the attention onto, and most of the times it will be applied on walls where it will be also easier to look at it from close distance in order to value the fine and deep details of its texture.

Travertines

Travertino is a sedimentary stone widely used in architecture, near the areas where it is quarried. Several quarries exist in different part of the world. Travertines also have very strong cultural values as so many classical buildings as been built with it. Due to is very good physical performances Travertino had always been used as a stone for exteriors and later, thanks to the beauty of its layered patterns for many internal applications. This is one of the most classical stones and its applications are extremely wide. Due to the origin of this stone it is possible to find it in nature in many different colors, from the commonest white and light beige, to the strongest red and yellow. For our Travertines series we selected 3 colors, an ivory color (light beige), the classical color of travertine a pure beige, and a very elegant travertine which mixes some silver color with some slightly and bright beige, creating an absolutely elegant mix between color and warm color which makes it easier to match it with other materials and colors. As we said before the applications of Travertines are very wide, we developed our Travertines products in order to be perfect for outdoor applications, in Natural finishes, but of course in interior applications as well will sort beautiful effect as well. For cleaning facility reason, the typical holes of the Travertines had been softened . Our products present a 3d surface with some soft holes which creates a realistic effect under direct light, especiall when used on wall. On wall applications generally Travertine is laid with its layered veins horizontally, and this will also help to simulate better the shadow effect of its design.

Sandstones

Sandstone is a sedimentary rock, not very hard and easy to cut, which has been used as a building material nearby the quarries where it is extracted. Similarly to Travertino, Sandstone, has a significant cultural value, even though it might be not as globally recognized as Travertino is. We developed it in 2 of the many colors which is possible to find in nature, a yellow one and a red one. Their perfect application is outdoor, facades and every exterior flooring, including balconies, swimming pool sides etc.. Especially thanks to its semi-rough finish they achieve very good anti-slip performances, making them a perfect choice for all of the areas where the floor might get wet. They have very warm an heart-like color which make them a good choice also as interior stones. We designed them with a multi-direction pattern, which create a very dynamic and ever changing effect, perfect for very large areas of applicaton as facades or big floors.

3D Full Body Technology

Better Inside-out Color and Vein Consistency

The 3D Full Body Technology represents the upgrade of GANI first and second generations' full body. GANI independently developed the world's leading precision powder allocation and synchronous printing core technologies and achieved harmonious color and veins of marble tiles with three-dimensional extension of the product texture in directions of left and right, front and back, up and down. The products can not only better meet the conventional decorative requirements like beveling and groove broaching, but also be flexibly used for a variety of artistic modeling processing.
